

Rosetta Alcantra

Palmer, Alaska 99645

Rosetta Alcantra is the President of E3 Environmental, LLC a subsidiary of Calista Corporation, and has specialized in projects with potential impacts to rural Alaskan communities. Her 20 years of experience in Alaska includes project management, administration and implementation of public outreach projects, planning strategies, and key message development. A certified member of the International Public Participation Association (IAP2) and graduate of Doyon Management Training, Rosetta understands the complexities of working with diverse communities and has the management skills necessary to build a successful business.

From individual community policies to the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA), Rosetta's active and honest approach to public involvement has familiarized her with the key issues of concern for regulatory agencies, industry interests, and individual stakeholders across the state. She is also experienced in government-to-government tribal consultation and Section 106 processes. Ms. Alcantra has a BA in Political Science from the University of Alaska Anchorage and began her professional career in the Alaska State Legislature as a legislative assistant.

Rosetta is a lifelong Alaskan raised in the rural villages of Anvik, McGrath and King Cove. She is a shareholder of Doyon Limited and Hee-Yea-Lingde Corporation, and a tribal member of Agdaagux Tribe of King Cove. Her home in Palmer, Alaska is shared with her husband, John Alcantra, their four children; Neillan, Almeria, Brodie, and Te'shya; and many pets. As a community member, she is active and maintains positions in the following organizations: Alaska Girl Scouts, 4H Club, AGEYA Wilderness Education Board, Palmer Soccer Club, and the Valley Women's Running Team.
